DR. H. G. WESTPHAL PHYSICIANS' CLUB NEW PRESIDENT

Election Is Held at Meeting at Harrower Laboratory; Lecture by Dr. Barrow

Dr. H. G. Westphal, well known local surgeon and member of the staff of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, was last night elected president of the Glendale Physicians' club for the year 1922.

The annual election of officers of the organization was held in conjunction with the regular meeting of the club, which was conducted in the entertainment hall of the Dr. Henry R. Harrower laboratory on East Broadway and Belmont street.

After a tie vote for the selection of vice president, Dr. Laura Brown and Dr. F. M. Collier each receiving the same number of votes, the latter formally withdrew his name from the ballot, making Dr. Brown the unanimous choice for the office. Dr. Henry Harrower was re-elected to the position of secretary.

Appreciation Shown

The 1921 officers of the organization were Dr. H. R. Boyer, president; Dr. V. P. Duncan, vice president; Dr. Henry Harrower, secretary.

Following the election, the retiring officers were accorded a rising vote of thanks and appreciation for their activities in the club during the past year.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. John V. Barrow, well known Los Angeles specialist in intestinal diseases, who gave a detailed lecture on the diagnosis and treatment of various bacteriological diseases of the gastro-intestinal tract. Dr. Barrow is one of the country's leading authorities on that subject, the members of the Physicians' club expressing themselves as being fortunate in obtaining his services for the evening.

Stereopticon Lecture

Following his description of diagnosis and treatment Dr. Barrow presented a brief stereopticon lecture on the unicellular organisms which are the cause of numerous intestinal disturbances, the slides shown being a series of microscopical findings of Dr. Charls A. Kofoid, head of the department of zoology at the University of California and recognized by a large proportion of the medical profession as the world's foremost protozoologist.

Following the adjournment of the meeting the members were ushered into the banquet hall, where they were served with several courses of refreshments.

Local Girl Wearing Historic Gems Once Property of Queen

Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Barnett of 704 East Windsor Road are in receipt of very interesting news from their daughter, Miss Zoa Barnett, who is starring in "Maytime," one of Shubert's new light operas, that has had a run of several months at the Ambassador theatre in New York.

Miss Barnett one day received a letter from a prominent firm of brokers, asking her to wear some historical jewels, that were in their collection, during the time she appeared in this opera. They promised to tell her the history of these jewels and asked as the only return to have a note upon the theatre program, explaining what the gems were. They also stated positively that the jewels are not for sale.

Miss Barnett is now enjoying the unique experience of wearing at each performance a necklace of emeralds and diamonds that was presented to Queen Victoria at the celebration of her diamond jubilee by Rajah of India. Upon the death of the queen it went to one of the younger princes, who sold it. It later became the property of an American millionaire, and after his death fell into the hand of the firm of brokers, and is prized by them as the choicest piece in their collection. They put no price upon it, as it is not for sale.

The necklace contains 2670 gems. For each large stone, there are four drops, each containing four diamonds. The settings are old gold and old silver, of marvelous workmanship. The necklace can be worn as a long necklace or divided into a short neck piece and two bracelets. A secret service man is in attendance at all times to insure the safety of the gems while in Miss Barnett's possession.

New York papers have told many different stories of why Miss Barnett is wearing the jewels, some of them intimating that the story is only press work. And probably The Glendale Evening News is telling the real story for the first time. She has sent a picture of these jewels to her parents that shows the wonderful workmanship of the old settings, and one can readily see that once they must have been one of the choice treasures in the royal coffers of India.

Gladys White Gifted Musician at Sixteen

Another proof of the musical talent of Glendale residents was proven yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Eagle Rock Women's club, at which time a musical program was presented by four of the pupils of Madame Genevra Johnstone-Bishop of Los Angeles, who states that the sensation of the afternoon was created by the numbers given by Miss Gladys White of Glendale. Miss White is only sixteen years old and sings equally well in French, Italian and Spanish, as well as English, and has a dramatic soprano voice. Her numbers yesterday were: An aria from "Faust" in Italian, and an "Indian Song" by Frank Logan. Tentative plans for a general sewage disposal system for practically the entire city of Glendale are being completed by municipal officials, it was formally announced at the city hall today and it is probable that a bond issue, of an amount yet to be determined, will be submitted to the voters just as quickly as the necessary proceedings can be prepared.

Plan to Beautify Tract

It is proposed, further, to locate a disposal system, known as activated sludge, in the center of the tract, placed under ground. Eventually, it is stated, the city will beautify the whole tract as a park. Mr. Woodbery said he favored the installation of the system in the business district, as is now being done, but was not ready to vote for a general system immediately.

Favor Condemnation

However, as the meeting progressed, it was finally voted unanimously by the committee that "If a piece of ground could be found that would satisfactorily take care by gravity flow of 80 or 90 per cent of Burris, accompanied at the piano by Miss Gladys Sharpe. "The Cry of Rachael" (Salter). "A Rain of Flowers" (Fearis). "Harmony" (Riego). At that time it was decided to complete the mile of pennies before the next meeting of the chapter. This money is being raised for Maternity Cottage in Los Angeles. A report was given yesterday of the sum of $50,000 which had been contributed by all of the D. A. R. chapters in the country for the purpose of rebuilding the waterworks in a French village. There were several visitors present yesterday, each giving a message of greeting from the chapter they represented. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served.

ON BUSINESS BASIS

Graham, who is six years old, caught a small fish and walked down the street in order to sell it. He went into the bank and up to the president. After a long talk he got a nickel for the fish, which the banker said he would feed to the cat. Graham was about to walk out when the bank president said, "You understand? If the cat doesn't like the fish you will give me my nickel back?" "Sure," said Graham, "but I'll expect my fish back."

COAL STILL SUPREME

Even if it were possible to develop and utilize at once every possible economic waterpower resource in America, the total energy thus made available would replace only a small part of the horse-power now derived every year from coal. While development of water power is important, experts point out that coal will remain the principal source to which the country must look for development of power facilities.

Ten years is the average life of an oyster.

Collge Girls State Why 'Just Because'

BALTIMORE—Why does a woman say "just because?" Answers to this question, put to the seniors of Goucher College by Professor Ethel Bowman, of the department of psychology, indicate that the chief reason, simply enough, is because she has nothing better to say. The great majority of the girls, while denying that an educated woman today ever uses such an answer, offered a widely varying number of reasons for the famous reply, chief among which were mental laziness, a love of appearing unfathomable, acting on intuition rather than reason, dislike for argument, and—sometimes because a man wouldn't understand a woman's answer anyhow.

Other popular explanations, according to Professor Bowman, were as follows:

To gain time. Because men expect it. Self defense. A dislike of committing oneself. A suitable answer for trival questions. Habit, tradition and environment.

"There was a pretty general feeling," said Professor Bowman, "that woman's use of this traditional reply has been greatly exaggerated. Over a dozen girls flatly asserted that men use it as much as women do. Some of the comments on this point were interesting, to the effect that the phrase must have been attributed to women in the age when men considered them brainless, that the answer is a survival of the time when an attractive woman wasn't supposed to be too intelligent, and that men are often incapable of catching the finer distinctions drawn by woman's more subtle mind."

CHURCH MUST HAVE LIVE SOLUTION TO PROBLEMS TODAY

That's Conclusion Reached by Rev. Bromley G. Oxnam in His Closing Address

"If the church of Jesus Christ is going to live in this modern day it must have a message which not only strikes the ear of modern man, but offers a solution for modern problems," declared Rev. Bromley G. Oxnam of the faculty of University Southern California Wednesday night at the First Methodist church in the closing lecture of his course on "The Social Principles of the Bible."

"If you forget everything else, I sincerely trust you will remember the six social principles of the Master."

Rev. Oxnam reiterated these as follows:

First—Men and not things are the goals of social life.

Second—The solidarity of the human family.

Third—The supremacy of the common good over selfish and group ends.

Fourth—Equal rights for all.

Fifth—Co-operation and not competition is the law of progress.

Sixth—Love and not force is social bond.

Says Competition Keen

Rev. Oxnam admitted that Christianity today needs to be on the alert in order to compete with other social forces. He called attention to the fact that equal rights for all were somewhat difficult to attain when 2 per cent of the population owned 60 per cent of the wealth. He asserted that biologists have discovered the fact that "the survival of the fittest" refers only to those animals who learned how to co-operate while animals which competed and fought with each other are now nearly extinct.

As an active program for the Methodist church, Rev. Oxnam urged the creation of a committee on industrial relations in each congregation in order that its members might have the benefit of investigation and report upon both sides of each economic question.

Into Practical Use

He also suggested the establishment of small but up-to-the-minute libraries on vital subjects.

He advocated the creation of a logical channel for service through which energy and inspiration generated in religious services might be put at once into practical use.

Rev. Oxnam reminded his audience that it was necessary for a church to be imbued with the spirit of Christ unless it desired to lose its dynamic force.

Hymn Book Hunter Has Big Collection of Religious Songs

WASHINGTON—The proud possessor of the second largest, and probably the oldest collection of hymn books in the United States, Frank J. Metcalf, of this city, is on the threshold of realizing a life-long, cherished ambition—that of being the collector and owner of the greatest library of hymn books in this country.

In Metcalf's collection are rare and ancient hymn books from every part of the world, for every known denomination, and written in almost every method known to man, from the system employed ages ago of transcribing symbols and characters on parchment paper and boards down to the present styles.

According to Metcalf, the style of music, since the first hymn was printed, has changed several times in the last 200 years. The first styles, he said, were tunes taken from the English books, and very few tunes were composed by Americans before this country gained its independence.

Metcalf has made a comprehensive study of American hymnology, which disclosed the fact that Charles Wesley, an Englishman, ranks among the greatest hymn writers of all time, having composed more than 6000 hymns.

"Probably the two oldest hymns that are most popular in the present day," said Metcalf, "are 'Rock of Ages' and 'Jesus, Lover of My Soul!'"

The beautiful strains and words of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," according to Metcalf, came into prominence and popularity in connection with the tragic death of President McKinley. It was McKinley's favorite hymn when living, and on his deathbed he chose it to be sung at his funeral.

Perhaps the most "American" book of hymns in Metcalf's extensive collection is "Indian Melodies," written in 1845 by Thomas Commuck, a Narragansett Indian.

One of the most curious of the lot in Metcalf's library is a copy of the Psalms of David, published in 1818. The upper two-thirds of the leaves of this book contain the words of the psalms, and the lower third of the pages contains the tunes, being so arranged that the chorister can select the music best suited to the words.

DR. HUKILL HAS GUEST

Dr. Hannah Luella Hukill of 102 West California avenue has as her house guest Thursday and Friday Mrs. Virginia Goeghegan of Los Angeles. Dr. Hukill and Mrs. Goeghegan were room-mates in Chicago when Mrs. Goeghegan graduated from the Kent College of Law and Dr. Hukill was a freshman in the medical department of the University of Illinois.

CITY TO CONTINUE FIGHT TO SECURE P. E. FARE CUT

Manager W. H. Reeves Tells of Conference Held With Railway Representative

The municipal government is far from being pleased with the Pacific Electric Railway's increase in rates, according to City Manager W. H. Reeves.

In a recent conference on the subject, Mr. Reeves inquired why Glendale's fares should be raised when this line has been on a paying basis for some time.

A. O. Smith, passenger agent for the Pacific Electric, first stated that the dividends from this branch were not as large as formerly, but finally admitted that it was still showing a profit.

On account of traffic using the present Los Feliz stop, Mr. Reeves refused to consider its elimination and substitution of a stop at Eulalia avenue. Mr. Smith called attention to the new stop at Cypress avenue to meet the new bus line. He denied that failure to stop at Los Feliz Road would cause accidents. Mr. Reeves declared that there was some unknown motive behind the request.

Predicts Double Rates

A suggestion that the city might subsidize bus lines did not meet with much favor on the part of Mr. Smith. He characterized connecting with the yellow car line as folly and asserted that the Los Angeles car line would soon "double its rates."

Mr. Reeves denounced the increase in rates as an attempt on the part of the Pacific Electric "to reimburse itself for money lost in land speculations." This was denied by Mr. Smith. At first he denied that the Pacific Electric Railway and the Pacific Electric Land company were synonomous. When the title of the Pacific Electric Land company, behind the local bus line, was brought to his attention, he was obliged to admit that there was a direct connection, according to Mr. Reeves.

City officials are prepared to do everything in their power to fight this increase by the Pacific Electric, according to a statement this morning by Mr. Reeves.

Ouija Board to Set Name of This Town

SAN FRANCISCO—An appeal to the old Spanish Don who christened Los Gatos may be necessary via the ouija board to settle a dispute now raging in the quiet old town that nestles at the entrance of the scenic canyon that serves as the gateway to Santa Cruz Mountains.

Los Gatos means "The Cats." Los Gatus means "The Gates."

"The Cats" it has been known, but a number of wealthy residents are rallying to support the contention that the name is really "The Gates."

They cite the fact that it is the gateway to the mountains that gave it its name. The old residents laugh at this and say that the old Spanish Don who originally named it gave it the name Los Gatos or "The Cats" because of the prevalence of wild cats in the hills. They point to the fact that there are many of them still.

Vaudeville Bill at T. D. & L. Will Satisfy Audience

Vaudeville in the true sense of the word is coming to the T. D. & L. theatre for this week-end. Meiklejohn & Dunn have arranged a bill for today and Saturday that is made up of acts that have one hundred per cent entertainment value.

The Royal Pina Troupe of whirlwind acrobats and tumblers perform some marvelous feats of balancing and foot juggling that really are astounding. Many of the stunts which they perform have never been seen in this country before as this act comes direct to the coast from Spain.

Don Fiatti, the king of accordionists has a repertoire that contains everything from the latest of jazz selections to the best of operatic airs. When it comes to getting music out of the instrument, Don Fiatti is certainly a wizard.

Those dare-devils on wheels, Time and Ward, have a breath-taking act that furnishes many thrills and moments of suspense. They risk their lives with the utmost abandon, in fact, they seem to derive pleasure from it for there are many smiles in their act.

On the screen, Jack Hoit will be seen in his first starring vehicle "The Call of the North." This is a drama of the frozen Alaskan country.

Local School Invades Monrovia for Battle

Approximately 200 enthusiastic rooters from the local high school student body left this afternoon for Monrovia, where they will form the Glendale cheering section at the opening game of the 1922 Central league basketball season. Coach Butterfield and the members of his Red and Black quintet are more than anxious to defeat the Monrovia casaba tossers, due to taht team's one-point victory over Glendale last season, which gave them the league championship.

The locals will be forced to go against the Champs minus the services of Bill Goertz, star forward, and considered by many as Glendale's best bet. Goertz suffered a sprained wrist in practice during the early part of the week and will probably be unable to appear in the line-up for several days. There is an outside chance, however, that he will be put in this afternoon's game, in case the final result of the contest should hinge on a small margin.

Glendale's probable line-up will be Colburn and McManus, forwards; Worthman, center; Cline and Ringstad.

POISON REJUVENATES DOG

PARIS—A farmer in Noyon who wished to destroy his old dog gave it some crow poison. The farmer waited sadly for the death of his old companion, but to his surprise the dog jumped about and barked furiously. The poison, for some extraordinary reason, has completely rejuvenated the animal, and it is now full of fun and vigor.

OIL PROFITS ARE HUGE

LONDON—A profit of 4,028,022 pounds, about $16,000,000, for the year 1920-21 is shown in the annual report of the Anglo-Persian Oil company, which has just been made public. The British government, for naval purposes, is heavily interested in this corporation, holding preferred and common stock to the value of 2,000,000 pounds.

CLERICAL VESTURE TO BE WORN BY DR. H. C. FUNK

Congregation Votes to Invite Pastor to Wear Robe as Is Customary Elsewhere

The robe which he wore during his five-year ministry as pastor of the First Lutheran church of Sacramento and during his sermons over another five-year period as superintendent of missions, today is ready to be worn Sunday by Dr. H. C. Funk at Sunday's services in the local Lutheran church.

By unanimous vote the congregation recently voted to invite Rev. Funk to appear before them in clerical vesture, in conformity with the custom of many Lutheran churches elsewhere.

Reports from different departments of the church indicate that commendable progress had been made during Dr. Funk's first year in the local pulpit which ended last Sunday.

Church Progressing

He reported that seventy-seven new members had been added to the congregation since his arrival and commended these present for their loyalty and zeal in the Master's cause.

Dr. Funk has introduced the common service in the worship of the church and has organized a Luther league which now takes full charge of the evening services one Sunday each month.

The Young People's Bible class reported $43 in the treasury and the Ladies' Aid society reported a balance of $144 on hand.

CONVERTIBLE AUTO PLANE

LOS ANGELES—A machine described as "the missing link" in aviation and automobile circles, and which, it is said, can be converted from a motor car to an airplane, will be manufactured in Los Angeles, according to an announcement from men connected with the project.

The invention is that of Virgil Moore, an El Centro, Cal., resident. The machine runs through downtown streets, it is said, with wings folded, but on reaching the country it spreads these wings and soars aloft.

Modern Portias to Help Their Hubbies

BOSTON—Two pretty young Portias in the law classes at Boston University have already entered partnerships matrimonially and when they graduate will become partners in law firms with their respective husbands. They are Mrs. Alice O'Donnell Sullivan, dark eyed, dark haired and fair, and Mrs. Esther Roth Hofman, equally and similarly charming. Mrs. Sullivan is a senior and Mrs. Hofman is being initiated into legal procedure via the freshman class. Both declare their belief that it is a wife's place to become a partner to her husband in business as well as domestic life. Both also declare that a career should in no way interfere with a wife's duty to keep house, and each presides over an up-to-date kitchenette.

Atheist Wills Body to Medical College

CHICAGO—The will of Morris Heilborn, veteran Chicago merchant who died recently, provides that his body shall be given to the Rush Medical College to be used for scientific purposes. It asks that after the body the skeleton shall be either preserved or burned.

Heilborn, who was a bachelor and an atheist, left most of his estate of $25,000 to Miss Jane Addams, social worker, "as an expression of my admiration for her great work."

Religious services and ceremonies were forbidden at his funeral under provisions of the will.

COUNTED LIKE SHEEP

The only herd of wild animals in the world of which a yearly census is taken are the fur seals of the Pribiloff islands, in the Bering sea. Once they numbered between five and six million, but they were slaughtered so ruthlessly for their skins that by 1908 there were less than a hundred thousand on the islands. Now they are protected by international agreement, and the herd is mustered and counted every year just like a flock of sheep.

A GOOD SIGN

Inquiry is made whether a wave of something cannot be discovered that would add to the sum of happiness, as a relief from the crime waves and suicide waves with which we are constantly regaled. It is, nevertheless, a good sign that a wave of happiness is still not news. Happiness is a good deal commoner and hence more commonplace than the pessimists are willing to admit.

FARM BLOC HOLDS POWER; PROGRAM IS SIMPLE ONE

Agricultural Interests Must Come First, Is Plan Under Which Leaders Operate

By J. E. JONES
Special to The Glendale Evening News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota will succeed the late Senator Boise Penrose as chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate. This is the most powerful position in the legislative machinery of the government. Measures that affect the tariff and taxation pass through this committee, and it has always been the practice of this particular group to practically rewrite the bills along those lines after they have gone through the lower House.

The farm bloc thus becomes more than ever a torment to the Republicans who believe with the president in "party responsibility." McCumber is by reason of geography and self-interest a champion of everything that the farm bloc stands for. Senator Penrose was for his political party, "first, last and all the time." He detested the farm bloc. But he was so astute a politician that he consented to the demands of the farm group in order to assure success for the tax bill that was passed this winter.

The so called "old guard" politicians in Congress are still asserting that "something must be done to control the farm bloc," and Chairman Fess of the Republican Congressional committee has decreed that there must be a "campaign of education," which oracular remark he follows with a column or more of advice upon the subject. In all probability the Fess "campaign of education" will wind up by the selection of a new chairman of the Republican committee.

Everybody in Washington knows very well that the farm group in Congress has enough votes to pass any bill through Congress that is desired by the administration. "Ay, there's the rub"—because their votes are likewise sufficient in number to kill any bill that they may oppose.

Program Is Simple

The farm bloc is composed of some of the best men in both branches of Congress who believe that the agricultural interests of the country should come first in legislation. That is their simple program; and it works its way into nearly every piece of legislation of national importance that comes up.

Members of the farm bloc say that they are not original in their demands, and they calmly meet all challengers with a nonchalance that proclaims: "What are you going to do about it?" That does not mean that they are not willing to cooperate with their fellow Republicans; but it does mean that in every case the interests of the farmers, whether in foreign or domestic commerce, taxation, transportation, marketing, credits, or any other activity, must be recognized in every bill before it will receive the okeh of the statesmen who hold the balance of power in Congress.

The One-eyed Car

Is there a motorist who has not, on some suburban road, beheld coming toward him rapidly a contraption with but a single light, that proved on the close-up to be a full-sized motor car? Sometimes the light is on the off side, sometimes on the near. In the latter case, well and good. You merely get the impression of a motorcycle taking up an undue amount of the road. But when the lonely illumination is on the starboard side, the deity of evil luck must chorlte at the mighty good chance of a sideswipe that will divest one car or the other of a wheel or two and a fender.

The reason for the number of cars that dodge about the streets with but a single light is a bit uncertaiin. Admitting that lights will go bad unexpectedly, it seems extremely imprudent to leave the one good light on the right side. To switch a bulb is but the work of a minute or two and means the avoidance of both danger and annoyance. The whole problem is a bit reminiscent of the battered darkey in an A. E. F. hospital, who explained: "Ah went to ride between two motahcycle lights, but it was an army truck." It is to be feared that the folks who don't carry two lights may encounter the same kind of trouble. It would be too bad for a motorist to have to page the insurance company and doctor because of the lack of a 30-cent electric bulb.

New Year's Reception

"Democracy" had its day under a Republican administration when on New Year's President and Mrs. Harding threw open the doors of the White House to the public and shook hands with thousands of their countrymen, as they passed in line. This time-honored custom was abandoned by former President Wilson, who always shrank from personal contact with great crowds of people. The White House functions are always popular in Washington, but the New Year's reception is the only one in which everybody can join. A bright newspaper reporter in describing the reception at its close used the following rather clever description: "The presidential hand is weary and languid tonight from the cordial shakes of cabinet officers, supreme court justices, congressmen, diplomats, oldest inhabitants of the District of Columbia and just plain citizens, not to speak of the extra weariness derived from frequent twistings into the position required by the fraternal grips of the Mystic Shrine, the Knights of Pythias, the Loyal Order of Moose, the Woodmen of the World, and divers other orders charged with important and beneficent secrets. If George Washington had been a joiner, his arm would have been too sore to throw that silver dollar across the Potomac. It's a wonder President Harding has the strength left to pitch a horse shoe."

European Conference Now Being Proposed

LONDON—Will Lenin, head of the Moscow government be shortly admitted to the counsels of Europe? This question is being seriously considered here today. In many quarters Lloyd George is credited with the desire to put an end to the Anglo-French controversies and thereafter to emulate President Harding by calling a five power European conference with England, France, Italy and Germany represented along with Russia. This plan may be possible only in the distant future, but it is already openly talked of. It dovetails with President Harding's desire to see in Europe an international arbitration group similar to the proposed quadruple Pacific pact.

Champions of the plan argue that if such a conference should meet as the occasion arises it would have a sedative effect on the minor European rivalries which have contributed to strengthen the French militarist position.

It is considered that the proposed conference would act as a brake on French ambitions and would likewise give Lloyd George a dominant position in Europe.

Personality depends on six factors: charm, force, symmetry, sympathy, optimism, and modesty.

People with twelve fingers and twelve toes are common in Bandera, a Texas town.

ENGLISH MEDICAL PROCEDURE IS OUTLINED BY DR. F. M. ROSSITER

Recently Returns to Glendale After Being Absent 21 Months Taking Medical Research Work

By ART SHERBORNE of The Evening News Editorial Staff

England requires her learned physicians and skilled surgeons to give their services without charge to the poor in her hospitals before they can obtain medical prestige, according to Dr. F. M. Rossiter, 331 West Lexington drive, who recently returned to Glendale after twenty-one months abroad in medical research work.

"You will not find one medical man in London, who does not have one or more hospital appointments," declared Dr. Rossiter in discussing the British attitude toward the medical profession. "The prominent medical men in London have hospital appointments and more than that they hold direct free clinics for the poor. This hospital work is not paid for over there, as it is in this country.

"The thing that impressed me most about the medical field in England was the fact that work there was so much more accessible for research than in this country. Prominent men in the profession over there all hold hospital positions. Many of them personally conduct clinics. This makes it possible for a student to come in close contact with them. I have seen Sir Thomas Horder, leading internist of England, supervise such a clinic. Here prominent physicians and surgeons are too busy with their remunerative private practice. Over there it is possible to watch these men operate, rub shoulders with them and ask questions.

Not Considered Ethical

"The medical men, who occupy hospital positions cannot advertise it in any way. It would not be considered ethical for a physician to have his hospital connections printed upon his card. His colleagues are the only ones to whom he might announce the fact.

'.The English system of education is entirely different from ours. As soon as a student is 16 years of age, he has the privilege of taking an examination known as 'the matriculate.' This is based upon extensive knowledge of Latin, French and English literature. I am sure that no high school graduates in this country could pass this examination and I believe many graduates of our two-year pre-medical courses would be unable to do so.

"However, a person, who can pass this examination, is entitled to enter any university in England at once. Some students start their actual medical studies when they are 16. In this country it is rare for a person to be graduated from medical school under 24 or 25 years of age. I knew two students in England who could not obtain their final degrees to practice medicine because they were not yet of age. Both of them happened to be girls.

Stay Within Lines

"A reputable surgeon over there does not meddle with medical work. If he does, he gets out of caste at once. On the other hand, a physician does not meddle with surgical work. A surgeon over there is never called 'doctor'; he is called 'mister' and a physician is called 'doctor.'

"Before a license to practice medicine is issued in England, the applicant must pass an examination and obtain the degree of 'L.R.C.S.' and 'M.R.C.P.' or 'Licentia Royal College of Surgeons' and 'Member of the Royal College of Physicians.' This is a very stiff examination and takes three months of special research work in preparation for it.

"After practicing two years, a surgeon is eligible to take an examination which entitles him to the degree of 'F. R. C. S.' or 'Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons.' After the same length of time, a physician is eligible for the degree of 'F. R. C. P.' or 'Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians.'

"But as this is an honorary degree and only conferred by the medical profession after distinguished and original medical achievement, it is very hard to obtain.

It Proves of Value

"I took work under well known authorities in the London Medical school, who had not yet been able to obtain this degree and still were only 'Members of the Royal College of Physicians.' It might require ten or fifteen years for a physician to obtain this degree and many never achieve it.

"However, when once this degree has been obtained a physician may go anywhere he chooses in the British Empire and secure instant recognition both from his colleagues and the public. This gives him a decided advantage over colleagues who have not been so honored.

"Because it is impossible for a physician to obtain this degree in general practice in the small towns, there is a tendency for most of the ambitious medical graduates to go into hospital work in the big cities as soon as possible. Therefore, it is possible to come in contact with the highest authorities in the British medical profession at London. Nearly all the practicing physicians there are specialists. It takes many years to work up a practice in London.

"Owing to the fact that there are always numerous applicants for all hospital positions, the person with the best qualifications and highest recommendations is most likely to receive the appointment. Previous records are examined very carefully. This enables the talented person a good opportunity to obtain recognition.

Must Purchase Practice

"Ethics forbid a graduate from a medical school from taking his diploma to a community of his choice, opening an office and establishing a practice of his own. Instead, he must purchase the practice of some established physician. This physician may wish to move elsewhere, in which case, he must buy out another practice. or he may wish to retire.

"The advantage about this system is that after buying out a practice, a physician may begin active work at once. If a physician should disregard this custom. he would find himself immediately without caste among his colleagues and among the people of the community as well.

"I have no means of knowing just how much an average practice is worth beyond the information I gained from the advertisements of the medical journals. These listed practices for sale from 500 to 2000 pounds or from $2000 to $10,000.

"Medicine is not a poor man's profession in England. It is impossible for a young doctor to save enough to buy a practice. He must either inherit the money or go into debt for it.

"Hospital physicians, who are known in this country as 'internes' are called 'house physicians' in England. They receive from 50 to 75 pounds a year or from $250 to $375 a year and their keep.

Must Hire Assistants

"However, after a practice reaches a certain size, an established physician will be obliged to hire assistants. These are paid from 500 to 1000 pounds a year or from $2500 to $5000 a year. This salary enables the assistant to save enough in time to buy a practice of his own.

"Another class of practice in England, however, belongs to the physician or surgeon without special degrees. It is known as a panel practice and those who are engaged in it are paid by the government to look after those who are the beneficiaries of the government insurance. All those whose income is below a certain amount have the privilege of obtaining this insurance. A panel doctor does a general practice and mixes both medicine and surgery.

He Had 7000 Patients

"One panel doctor I knew had 7000 patients. He was paid 75 cents a patient by the government. This gave him a nice revenue, but think of the care his patients must have gotten!

"A much better class of people seem to come to the free clinics over there. In this country those who report to the dispensaries are mostly foreigners and uneducated people. In England they seem to be much more intellectual. I have seen women come wearing diamonds.

"Private fees are very high in England. Those who can afford to pay reimburse the physicians for their free services in the hospitals. An average charge of a visit in this country I think is between $2.50 and $3. Over there it is a guinea or $5, while two guineas or $10 is the price in England for an office examination. In the British Isles $250 is a moderate charge for an operation for appendicitis. I think the average price in this country is from $100 to $150. This scale of prices does not apply to the specialists whose charges, of course, are much higher."

Despite the fact that he studied for a number of months under Sir Thomas Lewis, leadinig heart specialist in London, Dr. F. M. Rossiter is quite content to leave England to the British—or the Irish. He has decided to establish an American office in the new Ralphs building.

Kemalites Planning Christian Massacre

PARIS—Rumors of an impending massacre of Christians in the Adana district, rivalling the wholesale slaughter of Armenians twenty-five years ago, have reached Paris and are reported by the French press, though the French foreign office expresses confidence that no trouble will follow the withdrawal of French troops from that region under the Franco-Turkish agreement.

L'Homme Libre says it has received information from a very good source that a large number of Turks, filled with sentiments of vengeance, are entering Adana and that they have formed a secret society whose title is "National Vengeance." Letters have been seized proving that anti-Christian agitators have been sent to Adana and the surrounding region to stir up trouble and the Kemalist newspaper Yeni Adana has suddenly appeared printed in red ink.

League Nations Has Smallest Gold Coin

LONDON—Perhaps the smallest modern gold coin in the world has recently been minted at Geneva. It is known that the budget of the League of Nations is calculated on the basis of the gold franc, which normally has no separate existence. One gold franc has just been made as a specimen. Its weight is about a fifteenth of an ounce.

The coin has been presented to Sir Eric Drummond. Collectors would no doubt pay a fantastic price for it.

The Telephone Directory

Good telephone service depends vitally upon care in calling telephone numbers. A wrong number called causes loss of time to you, to the party called and to the operator. Every instance means avoidable inconvenience to all concerned.

It is not the loss of time to you alone or to the operator that concerns us most, but it is the annoyance to the party called. Your mistake cannot be explained to him, and the Telephone Company is held responsible for your error.

Consulting the current issue of the telephone directory, instead of trusting to memory; giving your number clearly, and quickly correcting the operator if she misunderstands your call, will greatly increase the efficiency of the service.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Advertisement.

RURAL SCHOOLS IN NEED OF RECORDS TO AID MUSIC

Glendale Folk Will Help in State-Wide Campaign to Swell Necessary List

A state-wide campaign is being conducted this month to secure phonograph records for circulation through the county libraries to the rural schools, and every club within the California Federation of Music clubs and every music lover within the state has been asked to assist in this worthy undertaking.

Announcement of this campaign was made recently by Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club, at a concert given by that organization.

Emma M. Bartlett, state chairman of the committee on public school music, in announcing this campaign in the California Federation of Music clubs bulletin says:

"When one thinks of the little isolated schools with an overworked teacher who has all she can do to help them master the three R's, what chance has she to give them music? The California Federation of Music clubs (of which the Glendale club is a part- is going to help that. teacher, and in doing so will see that she is supplied regularly with records, with the stories attached, so that she may read them to her pupils and be assured of their receiving a knowledge of how to appreciate music.

Given Indorsement

"This movement has the indorsement of Mrs. Agnes Ray, member of the State Board of Education; Mrs. Margaret McNaught, Commissioner of Elementary Education; Mark Keppel, superintendent of the Los Angeles county schools, and Mrs. Susan Dorsey, superintendent of Los Angeles city schools. Actress Sees Drama Divorced from Emotion

LONDON—"Good drama is as necessary to this country as a bath, and a bath it is for the mind," Miss Lena Ashwell, actress, told the Church congress at Birmingham.

But, she said, the modern theatre is entirely divorced from real emotion.

"Its roots are superficial," she declared, "and it deals with mere surface emotions, instead of being deep-rooted in the real springs of the religious life of the community.

"So we get stupid, banal and idiotic works which the public apparently enjoys. The measure is the measure of what can be got at the box office. Therefore there has been a gradual lowering of the tastes of the people.

"You cannot keep a money value when you are dealing with the human heart. It is an impossibility.

"Nearly every possible place of entertainment has been taken by the cinema. It is almost the only form of entertainment for the great masses.

"The people have minds and hearts which need food. and unless they are given food there is going to be great trouble in the community."

Problem of Railways Is Solved by Canada

OTTAWA, Ont. — Hon. J. A. Stewart, minister of railways and canals, thinks government control of railways in Canada is a solved problem.

President D. B. Hanna has announced the Canadian National Railways passed a momentous milepost in August when they achieved the first paying month in their history.

With the bumper crop of Western Canada beginning to move eastward in September, the final four months of the year promise to be an even more prosperous period in the roads' affairs.

Mr. Stewart believes, with President Hanna's system of rigid economy functioning throughout the system, the government roads will go on to splendid success and demonstrate to the satisfaction of the most skeptical element of the public the wisdom of government ownership.

"President Hanna's statement," said Mr. Stewart, "means that a deficit for August, 1920, amounting to $2,000,000 has been transformed into a surplus of $47,231 for August, 1921. The gross earnings for August, 1921, were $10,536,461, as compared with $10,065,918 for August, 1920, an increase of $470,543. The working expenses for August last were $10,489,230, as compared with $14,067,277 for August, 1920, indicating a reduction of about four million dollars in operating expenses.

"Another fact that should be noted is that President Hanna's statement, while including the Grand Trunk Pacific, which is being operated by the Canadian National management, does not include the Grand Trunk which, for the time being, is under separate control and operated in co-ordination with the government lines. I am informed that net revenue from railway operation of the Grand Trunk for the eight months ended August 31 last was $3,403,610, as compared with $1,629,636 for the corresponding period last year, while the net revenue for August alone was $1,910,994.

"The fact that the government lines are making a much better showing than during the corresponding period last year should serve to dissipate some of the pessimism which surrounds the discussion of Canada's railway situation."

Gold Discovery Near Denver Rich, Report

DENVER, Colo. — Discovery of rich gold ore in the vicinity of Idaho Springs, thirty miles west of Denver, has caused a new stampede to that once famous mining district.

The discovery was made in virgin territory by Frank J. Hayes, former international president of the United Mine Workers of America. Assays of the ore run as high as $1,300 a ton.

Every acre of the new district was "staked" twenty-four hours after news of Hayes' find became public.

Harding's Obituary of His Dog Is Reprinted

NEW YORK—President Harding's obituary of his dog, Hub, has been widely circulated by the Bide-a-Wee association here to lift the mortgage on its home. The association is seeking funds to continue caring for stray household pets.

"The best thing I ever wrote"—the quotation is from President Harding—is being used by the Bide-a-Wee association to lift the mortgage on its home. It is the obituary he wrote for his dog, Hub.

"It isn't orthodox to ascribe a soul to a dog—if soul means immortality," wrote the then editor of the Marion Star. "But Hub was loyal and loving, with the jealousy that tests its quality. He was reverent, patient, faithful, he was sympathetic, more than humanly so sometimes, for no lure could be devised to lure him from the sick bed of mistress or master.

"He minded his own affairs, especially worthy of human emulation, and he would kill nor wound no living thing. He was modest and submissive where these were becoming, yet he assumed a guardianship of the home he sentinelled until entry was properly vouched. He couldn't speak our language, though he somehow understood, but he could be, and was, eloquent with uttering eye and wagging tail, and the other expressions of knowing dogs. No, perhaps he had no soul, but in these things are the essence of soul and the spirit of lovable life."

Modern Diogenes Is Recluse in Paris Cave

PARIS—Diogenes has his home in Paris. He is said to lead a quiet life on the banks of the Seine, where he has erected a flimsy little shack which looks draughty enough to please the greatest of fresh air fiends.

Unkempt and looking more like a savage than a civilized man, he takes little notice of anyone, and few people deign to take notice of him.

A reporter sought out Diogenes in his strange domicile and found him washing his face in the river. He also washes his dishes in the river. He cooks his frugal meals at the door of his shanty in queer-looking pots and pans.

Winter has already set in and Diogenes has taken the precaution of covering his hut with a few extra sacks of old rags. He has secured his shack with ropes to the papapet above.

A French law forbids sleeping under the bridges and along the river banks. Thus far, however, no gendarme has come to trouble the peace of the recluse.

FOREST LAWN SAYS IT IS NOT WITH OAK FOREST CO.

Formal Statement Given Out by Secretary; Would Aid Lower Fares Fight

Forest Lawn Memorial Park is in no way, directly or indirectly, connected with the Oak Forest Land & Water company, which is suing the city of Glendale on the cemetery ordinance.

Besides denying that it is directly or indirectly connected with the Oak Forest Land & Water company, the Forest Lawn Memorial Park organization, by Mr Bassford, declares it is directly interested in the lowering of all transportation rates to Glendale and will be glad to give financial and moral support to the campaign.

POSTMASTER SEEKS CO-OPERATION OF CITIZENS HERE

Name and Address of Those Making Complaints Is Necessary Requirement

Mrs. X. Y. Z. Anonymous isn't listed in the city directory, but she has gotten into the postoffice directory, all right, all right, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson.

Since the postoffice has received its new phone, it has been used to make complaints to a certain extent by residents, who have refused to incriminate themselves by mentioning their identity.

"We are glad to adjust complaints, but desire the name and address of parties making them," declared Postmaster Jackson. "We have been making a careful investigation in each case and we would like to tell the parties who call up just what has been done. When we don't know the name or address, we can't make a report.

"We are glad to give information over the phone in regard to postal rates or mail schedules or such matters but, of course, we can't inform individuals whether or not there is mail awaiting them.

"We are endeavoring to get organized in working shape. The fact that we are doing a first-class office business in branch quarters is something that we can't regulate in a few days."

Request to Carriers

Postmaster Jackson has issued the following request to the boys in gray:

"During the progress of organizing this office as first-class, it is my desire that the carrier make every effort to please and satisfy the patrons of this office to the best of his ability, even going out of his way to oblige those you accommodate.

"This matter of accommodation will be left necessarily a great deal to your own personal judgment.

"I make this request realizing that the carriers are in constant contact with the public and any effort on their part is greatly appreciated by the public and reflects credit upon this office.

"Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated and will assist materially in the benefit to be derived from keeping a satisfied public."

Many Disabled Vets Placed in Paying Jobs

WASHINGTON — The United States Veterans' Bureau is making rapid strides and achieveing some remarkable results in the rehabilitation of disabled ex-service men, according to reports received by Director Forbes.

Many former service men, unable to pursue their pre-war occupations because of disabilities, are having their latent talents and abilities developed to an extent that will soon enable them to resume their former places in the every-day life of the nation, fully equipped to earn a livelihood.

Colonel Forbes receives constant reports of instances in which disabled veterans, being rehabilitated by the Bureau, have made such gratifying progress that their future success is assured. Prominent among these cases which have come to the attention of officials here are:

Four disabled veterans, unable to follow their pre war occupations because of their disabilities, were rehabilitated by the Bureau as X-ray technicians, spending ten months in training, and are now receiving an average salary of $312.50 per month.

Ninety-six former service men who were rehabilitated by the Bureau as salesmen, spending eight months in training, are now earning an average of $148 per month, in spite of the general industrial depression during the past year.

John Aversa, a young Italian, of Baltimore, was a tailor before the war. He was wounded in France, and, while recuperating at Walter Reed hospital here, he engaged in clay modeling as a pastime, displaying remarkable talent. Recognizing his marked ability in this line, the Bureau recently sent him to Rome, where he will continue the study of sculpture.

Joseph Kaufman, studying music under the Rehabilitation Division of the Veterans' Bureau at a school of music in Minneapolis, Minn., has developed three voices. When he sings it sounds as though three men were singing side by side in unison. He has rejected several offers to appear in vaudeville, preferring to complete his music course.

Dr. George E. Wells is now a member of the University of Maryland faculty after completing a medical course as a student of the Bureau.

The Bureau is training over 300 women, army nurses, yeomanettes and others who served in the military service in useful pursuits.

ASSERT CALIFORNIA SEEKS TO SECURE WATER CONTROL

Denver Officials, Back From Coast Conference, Warn of Situation in Colorado

By RAY HUMPHREYS
Special to The Glendale Evening News.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 13.—How Denver is confronted not only with a water famine, but eventual municipal stagnation, unless immediate and vigorous steps are taken to insure it a water supply in excess of its present consumption, is the story told by City Attorney James A. Marsh, Finlay L. McFarland, member of the city water commission and L. W. Bannister of the Denver Civic and Commercial association, who have just returned here from California. And California is blamed for the situation!

Fresh from conferences held on the west coast, where representatives of seven western states discussed the distribution of the waters of the Colorado river, the trio of Denver officials paint a sorrowful picture for Colorado and especially for Denver if the plans of California, which they term "ambitious" are allowed to go through before Colorado arouses to the fact that her existence depends on those Colorado waters.

Action Is Being Urged

That California is now taking 2,000,000, acre-feet of the flow of the Colorado river, though Colorado, which provides sixty per cent of that immense supply, through its various streams, which empty into the Colorado is using only a small per cent, and Colorado ultimately will be robbed of its last opportunity to avail itself of the river's immense flow unless action to safeguard its rights is started at once, is the contention of the officials.

But for the interference of Secretary of the Interior Fall, who attended the California conference, held in Riverside and San Diego, and the efforts of Denver's three delegates, California might have perfected a scheme whereby it, to the exclusion of Arizona, New Mexico, Wyoming, Nevada, Utah and Colorado, would have grabbed practically all of the Colorado river waters, the Denver representatives claim. The trio of Colorado representatives want to obtain, by transmountain diversion, sufficient waters to insure Denver at least 210,000 more acre-feet of water, and adjacent agricultural districts an adequate supply.

Predicts Water Famine

"We must be on the alert or the opportunity to obtain the water we need to insure the growth of Denver will slip away," said City Attorney Marsh, in speaking before a Denver gathering." There is grave danger that at any time Denver will be subjected to a water famine such as that which visited us a few years ago. Colorado, of all states, seems to be asleep to its needs. Water is rapidly becoming one of the big problems of the nation. California is fully awake to its future as well as to its present needs and for years has been organized to obtain every advantage possible. Unless Colorado, through its representatives in Congress, and by other means, exerts every power at its command, it will awaken some day to the tragic realization that its growth as a state is at an end because all available water has been taken by other states or private concerns. Colorado must wake up at once."

Statewide agitation on the matter was urged by Marsh.

FIND GIRL'S CORK LEG

BUCYRUS, Ohio—A small cork leg, probably dropped out of a Pullman car window, was found by section hands alongside the tracks of the Pennsylvania line east of here, between Lakeville and Loudenville, it was reported here. It is thought that the artificial limb belonged to a girl.

Aid American Fighters in Foreign Countries

WASHINGTON—World War Veterans who cast their destinies with the American flag and who now reside in foreign countries receive a total of $596,868.70 every month from the United States Veterans' Bureau, according to an announcement by the bureau.

The disbursements are sent to eighty-six foreign countries to meet the allotment and allowances, insurance and compensation claims of the men who served with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, the announcement said.

Italy, the land of sunshine, music and spaghetti, receives the largest part of the money sent out. Checks aggregating $215,917.96 are forwarded each month by the bureau to satisfy the various claims of American ex-soldiers and their dependents now residing in Italy.

Ireland, traditionally famous for her fighting men, ranks second in the amount of money received by former American soldiers or their dependents. A total of $67,421.81 finds its way monthly to the shores of Erin, where former members of the American fighting forces have taken up their abode.

Former American soldiers or their dependents who now live in Germany receive checks every month totaling $3,336.06 in compensation for their injuries or losses.

Every civilized spot under the sun is represented on the disbursement lists of the bureau. One man on the remote Island of Tahiti, in the Pacific receives a check each month calling for $47.74. Five checks are sent every month to Asia Minor, four to Egypt, one to Esthonia, ninety-one to China, twenty-eight to Japan, eight to the Island of Trinidad and eleven to Barbados.

FLAGSHIP TO DRY DOCK

LONDON—Admiral Lord Nelson's famous old flagship, the Victory, which has been moored in Southampton waters for the last hundred years, is to be dry docked at Portsmouth for a thorough examination. It is doubtful if the old ship will go back to her moorings again.

The Victory, which was launched at Chatham Dockyard in 1756, has served for nearly a hundred years as the flagship for the admiral commanding at Portsmouth.

MASS MEETING FOR DISCUSSION OF CITY SEWERAGE

Organization Formed by 85 Citizens Last Night and Committees Named

To more fully inform the citizens of Glendale as to sewage disposal problems, a mass meeting has been called for next Monday night at the high school, according to the following self-explanatory communication:

Editor The Evening News:—It having been announced through the papers of Glendale that the sewer question would be up for consideration before the City Council at their regular meeting last evening eighty-five citizens met in the council chamber to get some light on the subject. For some unaccountable reason the board adjourned hurriedly before 8 o'clock.

The crowd waited for about an hour and hearing nothing from the council, resolved itself into an organization and appointed a committee to wait on the chairman of the citizens' committee, having the sewerage question in charge.

Organization Forms

Having been assured of the correctness of the report of locating the sewage farm somewhere between the City Park and the main Glendale water works, and realizing the serious results that might ensue from locating the sewer farm so close to the chief water supply, resolved itself into an organization, electing Mattison B. Jones, chairman and Mr. Goodale, secretary.

A committee consisting of W. E. Evans, chairman, Mr. Abrams and E. G. Bottsfield, drafted resolutions to present to a mass meeting, called to meet at the High School at 7 o'clock Monday, January 16, 1922. A publicity committee consisting of Alex Mitchell, chairman; J. R. Grey and O. M. Newby to urge through the newspapers and otherwise the necessity for all citizens to attend the mass meeting and voice the disapproval of any attempted action to place a sewer farm where it must pollute our main source of water supply, and take all necessary steps to arouse our citizens to their immediate danger, was appointed.

Publicity Committee,
ALEX. MITCHELL, Chairman.
J. R. GREY.
O. M. NEWBY.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLAN PREPARED FOR PUBLIC

Tentative Proposals Revealed; Activated Sludge System Favored by Committee

the sewage of Glendale, same to be approved by the state board of health, the committee would recommend that this property be acquired by condemnation or otherwise and the people be asked to vote a bond issue to take care of such system."

It was stated at the city hall today that Chairman Vesper of the committee will issue a formal statement, probably tomorrow.

Members of the city council expected to receive a report from the sewage committee at the council meeting last night, but none was presented.

Property Owners Appear

After the council adjourned, a number of property owners from the northwestern section of the city appeared at the council chambers expecting to receive information regarding the proposed sewage disposal system. A number of the delegation were of the belief the council convenes at 8 o'clock. The meeting hour of the council, however, is 7 o'clock, and has been for a number of months.

Incidentally, a mass meeting for a discussion of the sewage question has been called for next Monday night at the high school, as told elsewhere in this edition of The Evening News.

The meeting is called by an organization which formed at the council chamber last night, being made up of citizens who gathered there with the expectation of hearing the sewage question discussed.

Council Is Hopeful

Statements made at the city hall this morning were to the effect that "the council is not trying to put something over on the people." Officials stated that the sewage question has been considered for a long time; that the council has already helped the business district solve the problem and now, by the tentative plans being completed, hopes to solve the sewage problem for practically the entire city. It was pointed out that the system in the business district can be connected with the system proposed for the city as a whole.

Officials said this morning that the tract in the northwestern section of the city is the only one available; that it has to be secured by condemnation proceedings; that the system will be placed under ground and "none will ever know there is a disposal plant on the property," and that the "plant will be a half mile or more from the nearest house."

Sub-Irrigation for Farms

Further, it is proposed to farm the land with a system of sub-irrigation as outlined by Mr. Woodberry; that, eventually, the land will be beautified as a park and that "the wash will no longer be an unattractive spot, but a place of beauty."

It is proposed to build the system unit by unit, giving property owners plenty of time to connect with the pipe lines to be placed under ground.

Engineers are now working out figures to show the probable cost of the land, sewage disposal plant, pipe lines and engineering fees.

The council, it is said, expects to shortly present the whole matter before the people for approval or disapproval.

Dr. O. P. Gifford to Speak for Baptists

Dr. O. P. Gifford of Pasadena, will deliver a special address for young people tonight at the Baptist church. Mid-week prayer services were held last night and Dr. Gifford spoke upon the subject of prayer, calling attention to the fact that if prayer was beneficial to Washington at Valley Forge, Lincoln during the Civil War and Foch during the World War, it must be a good thing for others. A solo was sung last night by Mrs. Park Arnold accompanied by Mrs. Ray Bentley.

Let your light shine, but not hot enough to burn up your good intentions.

Mother, Kidnaped Son Meet After 20 Years

DENVER, Colo.—After a separation of more than twenty years Mrs. W. O. Wood, wealthy widow of a pioneer mining man of Denver, and her son, Carl Heinrich Vischer Geriff, have been reunited.

Mrs. Wood separated from her first husband, a German banker, when Carl Heinrich was four years old. Custody of the child was awarded to the mother. The baby was taken to a castle in Switzerland, where, Mrs. Wood says, he was kidnaped by his paternal grandmother.

The mother later was married to Count Stoeffel of Switzerland, and became the wife of W. O. Wood on the death of her titled husband. Through all the years Mrs. Wood continued the search for her boy. And when Carl Heinrich reached his majority he began a search for the mother.

The World war and the International Red Cross brought the two together.

Carl Heinrich, fighting in the German army, fell wounded in the hospital, where it was believed the man was dying, he requested a surgeon to get word to his mother. All the wounded soldier could tell of his lost parent was that she was the widow of Count Stoeffel. The International Red Cross took up the trail of Mrs. Wood from the Stoeffel castle, in Switzerland, followed it around the world and finally to Denver.

Meanwhile, Carl Heinrich recovered. Germany was a republic when he left the hospital. The Red Cross confirmed the stories of the son and mother and established communication between them. Carl Heinrich disposed of all his interests in Germany and set sail for the United States, reaching Denver in time to spend the holidays with his long lost mother.

Mrs. Wood is famous as a hunter of big game, ranch woman and scenario writer.

The gorilla, the largest and fiercest of anthropoid apes, most resembles man in structure and size.

Apes are all devoid of tails and cheek pouches.

Mustard gas, furnished by the Department of Agriculture, routed fifty-three rattlesnakes from a den near Huscum, Washington. A party of orchardists freed the gas in the porous formation of a large pile of lava rock with a long garden hose. Within 30 minutes rattlesnakes of all ages and sizes began wiggling themselves out of the den. Blinded and half dead, the snakes were clubbed by members of the party.

All Makes of Batteries

But we would a great deal rather help you keep your battery in such condition that it will give you the most miles of uninterrupted service per dollar.

Your battery may need recharging. It may need a little distilled water to keep the battery solution over the tops of the plates. It may need to have the connections tightened up. Simple things—but if they're not taken care of you lose battery usefulness and battery life.

There is a great deal we can do in the way of making your battery last longer and serve better. Come in and let us show you. You're welcome here whether you have a Willard Battery on your car or not.

DAHLIA HEIGHTS IS NEW SUBDIVISION AT EAGLE ROCK

Five Big Selling Features of Property Pointed Out; Glendale Folk Invited

Dahlia Heights, a new subdivision which announces its opening sale in The Glendale Evening News today, offers buyers a choice section in fast growing Eagle Rock City that is considered by experts to be one of the "best buys" in southern California.

Five salient selling features of this property are:

1. Five cent car fare (by book) to Los Angeles with the big double cars at the yellow line starting point, assuring first choice of seats.
2. Free Los Angeles telephone service, that section being a part of the Garvanza exchange.
3. Free from fog and frost, the record for eighteen years showing an ideal climate for fruits and flowers.
4. Street work, water, gas and electricity all included in the present purchase price.
5. Foothill homesites at low prices with convenient terms.

Agents Are Enthusiastic

Ruddick & Driver, the nationally known real estate firm which is so successfully selling Meeker's Orange Manor here, is the owner of the tract and H. E. Barnum & Co. is the selling agent with offices at Colorado and Townsend avenues in eastern Eagle Rock, although the tract lies in the heart of that fast residential section.

Alexis Courtial, sales manager of the latter firm, is enthusiastic over the opportunities he has to offer the commuter and home builder who is looking for high, dry foothill property that is plentifully sprinkled with orange and olive trees, yet having all of the facilities to be obtained in any section of Los Angeles.

"I have sold Hollywood, Wilshire and Beverly Hills homesites," he says, "but I have yet to see the facilities and advantages equaled for the money. In all my lifetime here in southern California Dahlia Heights offers the most and, to my mind, is worth double the price we are putting lots on the market today. Surely, Ruddick & Driver will ask more in a very few days.

Ideal Home Community

"Restrictions have been placed on this tract which will keep it an ideal home community, but they are reasonable and will satisfy the humble buyer as well as those seeking foothill residential sites. Lying between Pasadena and Glendale, this section of Eagle Rock could be justly called the 'sleeping porch of Los Angeles'."

Mr. Courtial personally invites all Glendale people interested to take the touring cars marked Dahlia Heights which will be at the Pacific Electric station here Sunday and visit the new subdivision free of charge. Motorists may drive east on Colorado boulevard to the tract office.

THIS TOWN IS MUSICAL

EAST WEYMOUTH, Mass.—Figures recently announced revealed the fact that approximately 25 per cent of the population of this town is addicted to at least one musical instrument. Several are afflicted with musicitis so severely that they divide their attentions on several instruments. A number of bands and orchestras have been organized here and East Weymouthites are leading some of the country's best known musical organizations.

Dry orange and lemon peel make splendid fire revivers. Dried peel is especially good for bringing a dull fire to life in a sick room, where the crackling of a few sticks may awake the patient for whom sleep is necessary. All peel should be collected and dried in an oven that is cooling off after cooking. Then the peel should be stored in a tin or old string bag until it is required.

COMMENT
THAT'S ALL

Stepping on the Throttle
Day of Reckoning Coming
Service More Than Gold
Retail Food Cost Lower

By Gil A. Cowan

SOMEBODY has stepped on the throttle and shot Glendale ahead in the building game that is worth-while bragging about!

Although the month is less than half gone, the amount called for in permits issued already this year today equals the total of January, 1921.

Never were prospects so bright for a banner building year in this rapidly growing city. It seems almost like a fever the way property owners, contractors and others are "up and at it."

I stepped into a real estate office yesterday afternoon and the conversation overheard was really amazing. A lot had been sold in the morning and by afternoon a prospective lessee of a store wanted a building put up to meet his need. That's what you call speed.

There have been fifty inquiries or more if storerooms are for lease in the Cohn building now being completed adjacent to The Glendale Evening News office. And to think that all the space was let prior to roof being placed!

From every section of the country hundreds of homeseekers are hurrying to Glendale to get in on the ground floor. Our boasted prosperity seems to be but a bud compared to the flowering bloom the New Year is bringing forth.

To be truthful, things are happening so quickly here that no human mind can keep up with events. History alone will be able to summarize the transition of Glendale from a sleepy suburb to a metropolis in its own right.

While we are watching Glendale grow, watch Eagle Rock. With its 5 cent fare (by book) over the yellow car line directly into the heart of Los Angeles, its free phone service and striving municipal public utilities there is no reason why that section should not rival Glendale in percentage of increase.

Incidentally, it proves one point: Citizens here must unite in obtaining more equitable car fare, for commuters will buy and build where they get the most for their money. Glendale must maintain its reputation of doing just that thing. Cannot the railroad commission see just cause in reconsidering rates effective here without putting the people to great expense?

Glendale is glad to be a part of the Pacific Electric system; thankful for the additional bus service; pleased to have O. A. Smith and his staff visit the officials here; and willing to respond to any call that will make more business for all concerned, but—

There will be a day of reckoning after all is said and done when penny wise policies of this hour in the development of the southland will seem so foolish to their advocates that they will be ashamed of the power that made them.

Speaking of power, money must mean a great deal to some people. From a safe deposit box in Washington the deputy register of wills yesterday uncovered $226,100 in currency left by the late Senator Boies Penrose.

Most of it was in bills of large denomination, including five $10,000 bills and many of the $1,000, $500 and $100 variety. What a roll the Pennsylvanian must have been able to display when necessary!

Yet it was this same senator who went to his grave in secret. There was something about him that could not be reconciled to death, it is said. Yet while he lived he had all of the power that money could provide.

Two men I saw this morning who hold high positions in Glendale spent years of their lives on delivery wagons. One of Glendale's most intrepid aviators during the world war got his first thrills in piloting a meat wagon around "home town" corners on two wheels.

Truly the spirit of service counts for more in the long run than all of the pomp that money can buy. But it takes cold cash to buy service, be it good, bad or indifferent and there is where a distinguishing line is drawn at times to the detriment of all concerned.

It is worthy to note, in the passing, the purchase of the Imperial Valley Press and the El Centro Progress in the county seat town of the southland's inland empire.

The Riverside parties who are taking over both papers very wisely will confine their efforts to the evening field, the logical time of publication, especially in smaller cities.

Also, they will maintain the name of the older established paper because it means more to the people who have known it as a friend through all the passing years.

May the one paper thrive and richly repay its new owners for their good judgment.

Decreased retail cost of food in twelve principal cities during December comes as welcome news to many who have suffered wage cuts through the railway labor board and other decisions.

Yet lower wages and lower commodity costs mean smaller margins of profit for everyone. The law of compensation walks hand in hand with economics, the same as everything else.

BLUFFS BURGLAR—FAINTS

NEW YORK—"Stay right where you are!" ordered Mrs. Lillian Lieberman, when she saw a burglar leaving her apartment. She kept one hand under her apron, as though she were concealing a revolver. The burglar stayed. When a policeman arrived Mrs. Lieberman fainted.

COL. HAVERS GIVES SOME PEN POINTS FOR ROTARIANS

Speaker Tells of Discovery of Fountain Writer; President Cooper's Program Enjoyed

If you do not believe that the pen is mightier than the sword, hear Col. E. A. Havers' travelogue on "The Evolution of the Pen," such as he delivered before the Rotary club at its luncheon here yesterday.

Several surprises were sprung on the local Rotarians yesterday by C. C. Cooper, president, who prepared a thoroughly enjoyable program and named committees for the year's activities. He called upon Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, to explain the proposition of paving streets in front of school grounds which had been discussed before in these columns.

George E. Bentley spoke about the lumber business and how the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company had grown from a three man yard to its present proportions. Of the 650,000,000 square feet of lumber brought into the port of San Pedro last year Glendale got about 40,000,000, according to Mr. Bentley.

Program Is Varied

J. Ed. Phillips of the Jewel City Undertaking company gave each member a souvenir gold knife which undoubtedly will be keenly appreciated. Roy L. Kent invited the club to attend the Boy Scout get-together banquet on the evening of January 27 at which time a $4500 budget will be made up. The opportunity to aid in boys' work was gladly accepted.

Visitors from Oakland and Los Angeles Rotary clubs were introduced and Colonel Havers of the New York club picturized an educational speech that made all appreciate the fountain pen of today as one of the greatest instruments in use.

Going back into the prehistoric ages he showed how stones were used for chiseled history. Later in Babylon the stylus and clay tablet were developed with a picturized shorthand inscribed by women workers who even then were more highly paid by men.

Among Early Inventions

Then Colonel Havers told of discoveries in Egypt, Italy and other places which showed that pens were among early inventions, but the fountain pen was the development of more recent days and due to an insurance solicitor spilling ink on a contract. He traced the industry from the rubber trees of South America to the factories in this country and showed the processes of manufacture, including the minute adjustment of iridium points.

In conclusion he used the signing of the armistice as the great event where the stroke of the pen ended the reign of the sword, but the anti-climax is still to come when the representatives of the signatory powers sit down at a table in Washington shortly and affix their names to the disarmament agreement.

George Larkin at Glendale Tonight In Dance Novelty

George Larkin, noted vaudeville and picture star, will present his act exquisite at the Glendale Theatre tonight with Myrna Kennedy, a pupil of Pearl Keller's studio here at one time, and Ollie Kirkby, well known locally as Mrs. Larkin, in dance novelty numbers that will be seen on the big circuits soon, it is said. The Larkins reside at 1417 South Brand boulevard and have a large circle of friends who will gladly greet their professional appearance here.

"Society Snobs," the latest Selznick picture which comes to the Glendale Theatre today, is said to be one of the frankest exposures of society as represented by the nouveau riche, ever screened.

Conway Tearle Is the Star

The Foresters have so recentiy risen from obscurity to riches that Mother Forester wishes to hitch their social reins to a foreign nobleman through the marriage of her daughter Vivian, with the popular belief that a title is the solution of all smart set supremacy.

Her carefully laid plans, in spite of every safeguard, come to naught and her social aspirations tumble to earth amidst the amused, unsympathetic jeers of the social world. Then daughter takes the shaping of destiny into her own hands and brings the story to a satisfactory close.
